The Popular Pure Yellow
Rose "Smyrna de
Clamius l'ernet"

ROSES THAT WILL NOT FAIL YOU

 In this climate, to be sure of success with Hybrid Tea Roses, you need NORTHERN FIELD-GROWN NO. 1, budded on so-called Japanese Multiflora, the fibrous-rooted understock, ideal for this climate. THAT'S KNOWN AS THE HIGHEST GRADE ROSE GROWN.

And then—we give these plants an early start by potting them in large pots (6") and allow them to root slowly during the winter months in cool glass houses, where artificial heat is used only to exclude the most severe frost. By the middle of March or before April 1st, the sash is taken off and without further protection they develop in a natural way.

 This is the ONE method of handling Roses that is SURE to give satisfaction, because you simply tip the plant out of the pot and it keeps right on growing as though you planted it weeks earlier.

 PRE-FERTILIZED. For every 100 Roses we pot, we use one large wheelbarrow of well-decayed cow manure, which is another reason why Cottage Gardens Roses step along and produce an abundance of flowers almost from the time you plant them.

 For eight years now we have been handling Roses this way and the increase in our Rose sales proves that our efforts to deliver the highest quality is appreciated. Last fall we again increased our facilities and offer this spring a glorious collection of the most Modern Roses.

Of course, taking the highest grade Rose grown and then giving it such care as we do, makes the price a little higher, but then you KNOW that EVERY Rose you get from us WILL SUCCEED and so our Roses are not only far superior, but also far more economical than plants carried over in cellars, cold-storage or any method known to us.
